With she we use has + past participle: She has traveled. Have goes with I, you, we and they.

✔ B) Have / been
With you we use have, and after have we need been: Have you ever been …?

Two years ago is a finished time in the past, so we use the past simple: went.

Both actions are in the past, and with I the past of be is was: I was in a crash when I was 10.

Last night is in the past, so we use the past simple: left.

Have you been …? uses have + been. The short answer repeats the helping verb: Yes, I have.

✔ C) done
After have we use the past participle: done. Not did, because did is the past simple.

We use yet at the end of negative sentences. It means 'until now': I haven't done it yet. Not ago, because ago goes after a time, as in two days ago.

9. I have _____ done it.
✔ C) just
Just means a very short time ago. It goes between have and the past participle: I have just done it.

Has been means she visited Portugal and came back. After has we use the past participle been.
