Explanations

1. Everyone came to my party, ___ my grandmother!
✔ A) even
Even adds surprise: I didn't expect my grandmother to come.

2. Choose the correct sentence.
✔ B) He didn't even say thank you.
Even goes in mid position, after helping verbs like didn't: didn't even say.

3. ___ I was tired, I went out with my friends.
✔ C) Even though
Even though means although and joins two sentences. Even alone can't do this.

4. I'll go for a run tomorrow ___ it rains.
✔ D) even if
Even if means whether or not. You don't know yet if it will rain.

5. Today is ___ colder than yesterday.
✔ A) even
Even + comparative means more than you'd think: even colder.

6. The hotel was very expensive. ___, we loved it.
✔ B) Even so
Even so means but still, despite that. It starts a new sentence, followed by a comma.

7. ___, the train was late too, so I didn't miss it.
✔ C) Luckily
Luckily shows the speaker is happy about it. Hopefully is about something you hope will happen.

8. ___, our school is getting a new swimming pool. I read it online, but I'm not sure it's true.
✔ D) Apparently
Apparently means people say it or it seems so, but you are not sure.

9. We've planned a picnic for Saturday. ___ it won't rain.
✔ A) Hopefully
Hopefully means I hope: Hopefully it won't rain.

10. ___, I prefer the book to the film. That's just my opinion.
✔ B) Personally
Personally shows that this is your own opinion.

11. What does "Apparently, the shop is closing" mean?
✔ C) People say the shop is closing, but I'm not sure.
Apparently does not mean clearly. It means you heard it or it seems so.

12. I was at the match, and ___ the referee was wrong. I saw it myself.
✔ D) clearly
You saw it yourself, so use clearly or obviously. Apparently is for things you heard and aren't sure about.

13. Put even in the correct place: "She can speak Chinese." (This is surprising.)
✔ A) She can even speak Chinese.
Even goes after helping verbs like can, before the main verb.

14. She went to work ___ she had a bad cold.
✔ B) even though
She really had a cold, so use even though (= although, but stronger).

15. He didn't say anything to us, ___ hello.
✔ C) not even
Not even + word means not this, which is surprising: not even hello.
